FOREWORD

We would like to thank Doctor Emmery of the Bishop Museum who helped us in our selections of the Divisional pages. Also the Bishop Museum and the University of Hawaii Committee of Hawaiian Language and Culture for supplying us with the pictures of these pages, Napua Poire Stevens and Jerry Loveland in giving us the Hawaiian Interpretation of these pages.

This year's Na Hoa Pona represents the symbolism of the Alii Family in which red and yellow is the very important royal colors. We have used Hawaiian red and canary yellow to represent the ancient past of Hawaii.

EDITOR'S COMMENT:

The Na Hoa Pono has endeavored to capture the year's highlights at the Church College of Hawaii in picture and story.

Many hours of hard work have gone into the completion of this student publication. Although it was an interesting experience for the entire staff, it was not done without much frustration and sacrifice.

It is our hope that you, the reader, will find enjoyment in reminiscing over the memories recorded and in meeting the familiar faces that make up our campus.

The Statue of " Our Napoleon Of The Pacific, " Kamehameha I is located in front of our Judiciary Building in Honolulu.

Kamehameha I, United the Hawaiian Islands into one Kingdom.

A Hawaiian Belief states that if the statue was not facing the mountain side, many pure-blooded Hawaiians would still be living.

There are many Legends and Meles (Songs) dedicated to Kamehameha I.

Theme: BROTHERLY LOVE

Different races linked together in friendship and common bonds led and inspired David O. McKay, president of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, to found the Church College of Hawaii eleven years ago.

Having witnessed a flag-raising ceremony at an elementary school in Laie, he was impressed by the multi-racial group.education, President McKay wished to help "make all nations one blood".

This is the most fitting example of the spirit of brotherhood, the theme of this year's Na Hoa Pono, which has made the Church College what it is today.

Dedicated To RALPH D. BARNEY

The Na Hoa Pono annual staff is privileged to dedicate its 1966 edition to our teacher and friend, Mr. Ralph D. Barney.

Despite your many responsibilities--family man, teacher, public relations director, soccer coach, Ke Alaka'i and Na Hoa Pono advisor and chief widget--you always have time to lend your patient guidance and inspiration to your students in your own informal manner.

We are sincerely grateful for this help, as well as your inimitable sense of humor, which has pulled us through many a crisis.

May you continue to be a part of the Church College of Hawaii, as you have during the past four years.

To you, Brother Barney, the only teacher on campus with a red sports car, our busy "man-on-the-go", the one who stands out in a crowd, this 1966 Na Hoa Pono is dedicated.

LUNA HOOPONOPONO AME NA ADMINISTRATION

This picture is a copy of the engraving taken from the painting by artists Choris and Kolzebue in 1816. It became a famous portrait of Kamehameha I, the only person to unite the Hawaiian Islands into one Kingdom.

Kamehameha was believed to be over 6 feet 5 inches tall and weighed over 200 pounds. He was beloved and greatly honored by his people. Hawaii celebrated a holiday for Kamehameha every June 11.

PRESIDENT
DAVID O. McKAY

David O. McKay, President of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, sponsor church of The Church College of Hawaii, also serves as President of the Board of Trustees of the Church School System, of which The Church College is a part. He administers this position from his offices in Salt Lake City, Utah.

OWEN J. COOK
President

The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints is a dynamic church.

President Cook has just completed his first year as President of C.C.H. Last year he served as acting President. He has done everything within his power to meet the needs of students and faculty. He has encouraged students to suggest improvements and changes in school administration and has acted on many suggestions. He holds a very optomistic out-look for C.C.H. and has faith in it's students and faculty.

This cloak was worn by Captain James Cook in 1778 and, at his desk, was presented by his officers to the Russian officer at Pelropau Loushi, Siberia in return for supplies.

The most elaborate cloaks were worn by the Aliis and varied in different sizes and patterns.

The depicted royal events on heroic adventures in which they Alii had participated.

The cloaks were made with red and yellow oo' feathers which were hand sewed by servants of the royal family.

HALEPULI AHAHUI
CHURCH ORGANIZATIONS

The he iau (church organization) was the basic place of worship for the Hawaiian people.

The Kahuna (priest) was a man who held much power among the Allis. He was responsible for various rituals in which only certain people were allowed to participate.

Whenever someone of royal blood died, all the people in the whole area went into a long period of mourning.

Sacrifices were offered and other sacred rituals perfored in the belief that the gods would prolong life.

After the death of Kamehameha I various taboos (sacred rituals) were stopped being practiced. Money of the old people still kept on with the old belief of sacrifice.

The religious background was indeed very vital in the daily life of the Hawaiian people.

Many dances and legends are written which tell of some religious belief.

BISHOP'S MESSAGE:

It has been a privilege to serve as the Bishop of The Church College Ward, to work with such fine counselors as Mark Setlow and Sone Afualo, and especially to associate with the students of the Ward.

This past year has been highlighted by the activities of the auxiliary organizations. Our M.I.A. has done a superb job in providing the students with wholesome activities. The Church College M.I.A. basketball team won the Oahu Stake championship and was awarded the regional sportsmanship trophy. The Relief Society nearly doubled in size and actively participated in Stake and Ward activities including an excellent Visiting Teacher program.

The Church College Ward has a number of members serving as full-time missionaries with prospects of more being called during the summer. There are 33 returned missionaries now in the Ward. A number of converts came into the Ward during the past school year and they are now actively engaged in Ward activities.

BISHOP'S MESSAGE:

This is the time of year when everyone of us can ask ourselves if we have done as well as we might have done; a time when we can feel rewarding satisfaction and pride for the progress that we have made and the blessings that we have gained; and it is a time to restate our goals and make our plans for many new experiences to come. The future holds many hopes and promises for each one of us. Our lives are being shaped for the future because of the contributions of the past. Our careers here at the Church College should be pursued diligently to ensure for each of us the same strength of character, the foresight and the spiritual fibre which characterized our forebearers. We should seek out knowledge from the best books, apply ourselves irrevocably to every challenge and respond unselfishly to every worthy need unfulfilled. Our lives and associations with other people are often made up of many seemingly insignificant words and actions, the sum total of which identifies us in the eyes of those among whose midst we stand. A cheerful word, a simple smile or an unrequiting kindness shown to someone unexpectedly will reap an unspoken reward of friendship and esteem as we sojourn forth through the new world of each new day.

As a bishopric may we express our warmest appreciation to each member of the ward at this time for the enjoyable association we are privileged to have with you. Your vitality, enthusiasm and faithful cooperation is most deserving of every good wish and blessing. May we continue to grow spiritually and advance academically toward the final realization of our uppermost ideals.

The Relief Society is an organization for ladies - not "old women". In Relief Society we learn to love. Through our theology lessons we learn to love the Lord and the Church. Through Home Living lessons we learn to love our husbands (to-be), our families, and homes. Through Social Science lessons we learn to develop ourselves so we can love ourselves. Through literature lessons we learn to love art. In our associations with one another, we grow to love life and each other. Shared testimonies have drawn us closer and closer together until we can truly say, "We are sisters in the Gospel" through the Relief Society.

SUNDAY SCHOOL

FIRST WARD SUPERINTENDENCY. Patoa Benioni, First Counselor; Edward Smith, Superintendent; Joseph Kahananui, Second Counselor.

The purpose of the Sunday School is to help everyone fully understand the principles of the gospel and to instill faith in the Lord, Jesus Christ. It encourages all to live a loving and humble life following the pattern which Christ had set.

Within this auxiliary, many are given the opportunity to serve in the process of learning. These include the many hard working officers and teachers who earnestly strive to inspire all who come in contact with them. In attempting to fulfill the objective of the Sunday School, they teach, guide, and lend a helping hand whenever possible. These leaders have learned that "For when ye are in the service of God."

STUDENT LIFE

STUDENT LIFE

Being a student at C. C. H. means many different things to different students. To some, it means sitting through dry jokes by their illustrious professors, others, accepting an academic challenge. Some will remember C. C. H. through the activities- riding the tandem bicycle, raiding the dorms, water balloon fights, and fighting off the mosquitos and toads while singing "Pearly Shells." Still others will remember C. C. H. by the many friends they had made despite differences in language, race and culture. Regardless of the reasons or the impressions, one thing is certain — memories of our student life at C. C. H. will remain throughout the years.

OFFERING before CAPTN COOK, in One of the SANDWICH ISLANDS

PAU

Captain James Cook has been given credit of being the first white man to set foot in the Hawaiian Islands (Sandwich Isles).

He landed at Kola, Kauai in 1779 to acquire new provisions and supplies.

The Hawaiians were not too suprised to see Captain Cook because they believed he was their godLono, who had returned from one of his trips. They provided various supplies and huge luaus (feasts) were celebrated Great amounts of Polynesian delicacies were eaten for the first time by the white foreigners.

Captain Cook was killed in a scuffle with the Hawaiians, resulting from a despute over a new piece of equipment which the fascinated Hawaiian people seized.
